

Ossi is a conscientious man of many talents, who in addition has completed his university studies. He likes to be where plenty is happening, is not afraid to try his hand at new things and likes to keep fit. His research will lead to travel both in and outside the Nordic countries. This will give him opportunities to use his languages. His studies at home on a somewhat different level include watching his little daughter grow up.